MISSOULA--

Dr. George M. Blake, an associate professor of silviculture at the University of Montana School of Forestry, recently attended the annual meeting of the National Christmas Tree Growers Association at the University of Vermont, Burlington.

While at the meeting, Dr. Blake was a panelist during a discussion on the genetics of Christmas trees.

Dr. Blake is an authority on Christmas tree cultivation, and he leads annual seminars on this subject for the Montana Christmas Tree Growers Association.
